NEW OWNER GREEN HOPES TO HIT JACKPOT WITH ZING ZANG

By Keith McCalmont

He's been aces in the casino business, rolled the dice and won in the cutting horse game, and now Terry Green is looking to hit the jackpot in Thoroughbred racing starting Feb. 19 at Oaklawn Park, when he sends out Zing Zang in the Southwest Stakes (G3).

Green co-owns Island View Casino in Mississippi and is also the proprietor of Jackpot Ranch, a 200-acre training operation for cutting horses located in Weatherford, Texas.

Introduced to Thoroughbred racing by his friend Mike Rutherford, Green enjoyed initial success as an owner with the graded stakes-winning mare Mississippi Delta, a seven-time winner from 21 starts who took the Intercontinental Stakes (G3T) at Belmont Park last season for trainer Mark Casse.

Now, with a handful of his own horses split between Casse and Steve Asmussen, Green hopes the late-running Zing Zang will become the new stable star.

"I've started buying a few horses and I'm in the process of building a barn in Lexington for my Thoroughbreds.

My cutting horse ranch is called Jackpot Ranch, but we're going with Jackpot Farms in Kentucky," Green said. "I want to have a few broodmares, but I'm more interested in racing and the studs. That's the direction we're going in, and the colts—they run for bigger money—and if you get one that's good, it's just a big payday. I've purchased a few mares, but my dream is to get a grade 1-winning stud."

Green knows a thing or two about starting a successful business. The 65-year-old native of Gulfport, Miss., was part of the historical legalization of gambling in Mississippi in 1990, along with his partner Rick Carter.

"We started out with a cruise ship to sail in and out of Mississippi and we couldn't make hardly any money," Green said. "So we hired lobbyists and convinced the state legislature to pass a law where we could do dockside gaming, and that was the first dockside gaming law that was ever passed. Me and my partner were very involved in that and one of the first casinos in the state of Mississippi."

A passionate horseman, Green branched into the cutting horse business about 15 years ago. He's a hands-on owner with a great deal of experience on horseback.

"I've shown in the non-pro (ranks) and I've had in-house trainers that have shown in the open. I started getting up a little bit in age and a friend introduced me to the Thoroughbred horses," Green said.

With a second casino in the works, Green hopes to use that money to finance yet another successful line of business in the equine world.

"It takes another income from somewhere else to keep the habit going. I'll probably stay at about 17 horses," he said. "I don't want to get real big. I do it for the love of the horses. It is a business to us, but we love being around horses and my family loves the races. That's why I'm leaning more toward studs, to stay more around the track."

Casse plans to help Green build on the initial success he enjoyed with Mississippi Delta.

"We've only trained for him for a couple years, but he's been lucky. I met him through Mike Rutherford and I have a couple useful horses for Terry right now," Casse said.

Steel Shot, a stakes-placed son of Trappe Shot under Casse's tutelage, graduated in November at Fair Grounds Race Course & Slots. The Canadian Hall of Fame trainer also conditions Green's 4-year-old Hollow Point, an allowance-level sprinter by Into Mischief currently in training at Fair Grounds.

"The horses I've had for him are nice horses," Casse said. "And he's got a pretty nice horse right now with Steve Asmussen that runs in the Southwest on Monday.

"He's a good guy. He's a great winner and he understands it. I'm sure he's going to do big things in the future."

It seems like Green's major outlay, the $300,000 purchase of Zing Zang from Gainesway's consignment to the 2016 Keeneland September yearling sale, could be the stable's first big score.

Green, along with his business partner and son-in-law Ryne Poncik, was very much involved in the purchase of Zing Zang, a Tapit colt bred by Gainesway out of the Mr. Greeley mare Jet Away. The duo was keen to land a son of North America's record-setting, leading sire, and had the advantage of Hall of Fame trainer Asmussen in their corner.

"Steve had never trained a horse for me, but I'd met him through some other people," Green recalled. "So I asked Steve if he saw any Tapits that he really liked and he said, 'You need to go look at this horse up at Gainesway.'"

The grey is the first Jet Away foal to make it to the races, but comes from the same family as grade 2 winner Sightseeing. He was expected to bring a price.

"Steve told us that this is the way you want a Tapit to look. We ended up going to the sale and had him vetted. We really thought he was going to go for a lot more money than he did," Green said. "We paid $300,000 for him and all the other ones were going for $500,000 or $600,000, so we were really happy. We're still not sure what we really have, but he is looking to be a decent horse."

Having purchased his fair share of cutting horses, Green was comfortable to offer his own opinion on the pricey gray.

"You're looking for the same thing with a Thoroughbred. That's what I've learned. You want the front end not to be too wide, and the shorter back with big gaskins," he said. "It's the same thing you're looking for in a cutting horse. It's funny how that works."

With four starts under his belt, including a maiden win at Fair Grounds, there's a little bit of buzz surrounding Zing Zang, who closed from 12th to finish fourth in the Jan. 13 Lecomte Stakes (G3) at the New Orleans oval.

Some even believe Zing Zang could be cut from the same cloth as another classic-winning son of Tapit trained by Asmussen.

"They keep comparing him to Creator," said Green, referring to the distance-appreciating gray who won the 2016 Arkansas Derby (G1) ahead of a classic triumph in the Belmont Stakes Presented by NYRA Bets (G1). "Zing Zang comes from out of it. He can run a long way and these prep races—they're so short. He doesn't really get going until about a mile, and then he starts to run."

Should Zing Zang come close to the success of Creator, who banked $1.6 million and now stands at stud in Japan, it would be an ideal foundation for Green to build a stable. The veteran horseman remains cautiously optimistic, while admitting to a little Derby dreaming ahead of Monday's 1 1/16-mile test. Even just to make it to the first Saturday in May with a Kentucky Derby Presented by Woodford Reserve (G1) contender would be a remarkable achievement for the new Thoroughbred owner.

"(A Kentucky Derby win) would be a dream come true, but I don't want to get my hopes up too high. You know how horses are," he laughed. "Churchill Downs is my favorite track. ... The tradition, the Kentucky Derby—there's something about it. It's a place you hear about your whole life, and then when you start participating, it's like another world."

And he'll let two of the game's top trainers—both with grade 1 credentials—call the shots, while all three search for that first Derby win.

"I've always been a firm believer that you stay out of everybody's way. You get your trainer and you trust them. I'm the type of owner that likes to go with the flow. If they tell me we're going to New Orleans, we go. If they say Arkansas, I go to Arkansas," he said.

So Monday Green will follow his Derby dream to Arkansas, where jockey Corey Lanerie won't have to worry about any backseat driving.

"I've never been on the back of a Thoroughbred," Green laughed. "I'm more cowboy style, not English style." BH

WINTER MIXED SALES AND EFFECTS OF POLARIZATION

By Bill Oppenheim

@billoppenheim

Polarization: it's a word used constantly for the last six months to describe the North American and European auction marketplace. Here is what it looks like.

Fueled by the $1.6 million, grade 2-winning filly Mrs McDougal and a $1 million American Pharoah short yearling and half brother to top sprinter Caravaggio during the Keeneland January horses of all ages sale, and the 1.9 million guineas ($2,845,070) for the promising 3-year-old colt Willie John (by Dansili) at Tattersalls, plus others from the Markus Jooste dispersal, the five major January and February mixed sales in Kentucky and Europe registered gains of nearly $10 million (19%) over last year's corresponding sales.

But the high prices distort the stark realities at the lower levels of the North American and European commercial auction marketplace. Of the 1,004 foals of 2017 (short yearlings in 2018) that sold in all 2018 mixed sales, more than 500 of them sold below the 2018 mixed sale median for 2017 foals, calculated by BloodHorse as $9,138 (converting the European sales to U.S. dollars). The big seven-figure sales make headlines, but more than half of the 2017 foals sold did not even bring $10,000. Nobody's making money on those.

In the context of the calendar year, the five major January and February mixed sales (Keeneland January and Fasig-Tipton February in North America; Tattersalls, Goffs, and Arqana February sales in Europe) constitute less than 5% of the annual gross in the North American and European auction marketplace.

But really these five sales are a continuation of what my team classifies as "second-half calendar year mixed sales" from 2017—the same five sales companies' November and December sales, plus smaller regional mixed sales.

Both sets of sales include foals of 2017 and mares in foal to 2017 coverings. My team calculates last year's North American and European mixed sales (October-December) grossed $506 million. The five January-February mixed sales grossed $62 million, or 11% of the combined total for the mixed sales we've counted (our $62 million total does not include Barretts and Ocala Breeders' Sales mixed sales in 2018). So, in the context of foals produced in 2017, and mares covered in 2017 and sold by one of the five major auction houses between October and February, these five winter mixed sales should be a continuation of the trends we saw in the fourth quarter of 2017, as well as being a bridge to the North American/European 2-year-old sales.

Let's begin with the European sales this month: Tattersalls in Newmarket Feb. 1-2, Goffs in Kildare Feb. 6-8, and Arqana in Deauville Feb. 13-14.

The dispersal of horses owned in partnership by Markus Jooste dominated the Tattersalls and Arqana sales. Seven fillies or mares at Tattersalls brought more than 200,000 guineas, of which five were from the Jooste dispersal. The other two were Thetis (550,000 gns, $819,531), the final filly from the Ballymacoll dispersal, and Longing (220,000 gns, $327,813), from Juddmonte. The five top Jooste horses brought 3.72 million guineas, and the sale total grossed 8,037,150 gns, up 40% from last year (and almost triple the gross of two years ago, by the way). Just those five Jooste partnership horses, however, did constitute 46% of the sale's gross.

At Arqana three horses brought €200,000 or more, and two of them were Jooste partnership horses. Combined, 912 horses sold in the three sales (converting guineas to euros) grossed €17,053,000 (about $21 million)—a 21% gain over 2017—and averaged €18,698 (about $23,000), a rise of 24%. Eleven horses sold for 200,000 (of their respective currency) or more, seven of them Jooste partnership horses, which grossed €4,874,720 (about $6 million) among them. If those hadn't been in the sales, 905 horses would have grossed €12,178,220 (down 13% from 2017 at about $15 million) and averaged €13,456 (down 10% at about $16,500). There's a measurement of the impact seven top sellers can have on a market, in which 912 horses have sold.

The situation in the U.S. is different in one very important respect: America is a bigger and broader marketplace. There were 2,157 horses cataloged between Keeneland January and Fasig-Tipton February, of which 1,273 sold (59%). At the three European sales, there were 1,431 cataloged and 912 sold (62%)—there were roughly 50% more horses cataloged in Kentucky than in the three European sales combined. Whereas 11 horses brought 200+ (of whichever currency) in Europe, 36 brought $200,000 or more at the two American sales—more than three times as many, and it would have been nine times as many without the Jooste horses.

But here's what the numbers don't obviously broadcast. BloodHorse calculated the median price for all foals of 2017 (short yearlings) at all 2018 sales, which were the five previously mentioned, plus Barretts January and the OBS January mixed sale. A total of 1,430 short yearlings went through the rings at these seven sales.

Of those, 1,004 sold for a total of $25,439,180 and an average of $25,337 (including the $1 million American Pharoah colt). But barely 25% of them sold for more than the $25,337 average, and the median, for the 1,004 short yearlings sold, was $9,138. That's 502 yearlings sold for less than $9,138. Ten times as many short yearlings sold for less than $9,138, as all horses—yearlings, fillies, and mares—that brought 200,000 (of their respective currency) or more.

Overall the highest median for any of the five sales was Keeneland January at $12,000. Others were Fasig-Tipton at $10,500, Tattersalls at 7,000 gns ($10,633), Goffs at €6,650 ($8,002), and Arqana at €4,000 ($5,299). A total of 2,185 horses sold in the five sales. That means at least 1,042 of them sold for $12,000 or less.

In my opinion the results of the 2018 winter mixed sales makes for pretty uncomfortable reading and shows why, for breeders as well as for racehorse owners, you need to hit home runs to survive.

SUMAHAMA EARNS JAPAN'S SPOT IN THE KY DERBY

By Bob Kieckhefer

Sumahama scored his third straight win in the Hyacinth Stakes Feb. 18 at Tokyo Racecourse and earned first dibs on Japan's spot in the May 5 Kentucky Derby Presented by Woodford Reserve (G1).

The Hyacinth was the third and last leg of the Japan Road to the Derby, which was established by Churchill Downs to encourage foreign competition in the Run for the Roses. Sumahama earned 30 points, topping this year's points total.

He is not nominated to the U.S. Triple Crown, however. Should his connections decline the Derby invitation, the spot would be offered to Ruggero, a Triple Crown nominee who won the second leg of the series, the Cattleys Sho, and finished third in the Hyacinth for a total of 16 points.

Sumahama, the favorite in the Hyacinth, stalked the pace through the early stages of the 1,600-meter (about one mile) test. When jockey Yusuke Fujioka asked him to run, he was rewarded with a burst of speed that surprised even the rider, and he raced on to win by 2 1/2 lengths over Taiki Ferveur. Ruggero was 1 1/2 lengths back in third. The final time was 1:38.50.

"Until his previous start, he had a habit of weaving during the race, but today he ran smoothly, and that was more than I expected," Fujioka said. "About the race distance for him, there was no problem running in (a) mile race. I think that he would have no problem running in 1,800 meters and upward races."

Trainer Ryo Takahashi added, "In his last two races, he led the races, but today he kept in the second position during the race and he could manage the race well."

Takahashi was circumspect about any plans for international travel for the chestnut colt.

"We will check his condition and decide his next race," the trainer said. "But until now he could perform the tasks step by step, so we hope he will go on to bigger and better things."

Sumahama is by Neo Universe, a son of Sunday Silence. He is out of the Afleet mare Sound the Beach. He finished fourth in his initial start at Kyoto Nov. 11, then easily won his next two outings. All three were on dirt.

Several of the runners in the Hyacinth, including Ruggero, are nominated to the UAE Derby (G2) at Meydan March 31. That race offers the winner 100 points in the main Road to the Kentucky Derby series.

Last year Epicharis won the Japanese series, then finished second to Thunder Snow in the UAE Derby. Epicharis did not contest the Kentucky Derby, but entered the Belmont Stakes (G1) and was a vet scratch on the day of the race. BH

SELDCOURT DIGS IN TO WIN LAS FLORES

By Jeremy Balan

@BH\_JBalan

One of Southern California's top female sprinters loomed at the quarter pole in the $100,000 Las Flores Stakes (G3) and the result looked to be a foregone conclusion at Santa Anita Park.

Two-time graded winner Skye Diamonds appeared to be rolling, and had gotten the hot pace setup she needed to close for victory.

But a new face on the sprinting scene—Medallion Racing, Keith Abrahams, and Sandra Lazaruk's 4-year-old Selcourt—had plenty left in the tank.

After a three-way joust for the early lead with Princess Karen and Coniah, Selcourt fended off all challengers in the stretch and held on to win by three-quarters of a length. After Princess Karen packed it in before the turn in the six-furlong test, Coniah held firm on the rail and also battled on in the stretch to finish second, but could not hold off Selcourt.

Skye Diamonds never got to the top gear she showed in her Great Lady M. (G2) and Rancho Bernardo (G3) victories last season, and came in third, a head back.

"She might have gotten a little tired at the end ... but it's a good start (to the season)," said Skye Diamonds' trainer, Bill Spawr.

A Tiz Wonderful filly trained by John Sadler, Selcourt was a head behind Coniah through the first quarter-mile that went in :21.54, put a head in front through a half-mile in :44.52, and hit the wire under Tyler Baze in 1:09.65 to score at odds of 6-5.

"She was in with really good horses and their strategy seemed to be to take it to her," Sadler said. "She took the pressure and just kept going."

The chestnut has shown off her speed since her debut in February of 2017, when she routed a maiden special weight field by 9 1/4 lengths. She then placed in two stakes—the Santa Paula in April and Angels Flight in May at Santa Anita—but she never raced again in 2017. Back to racing and fresh in the Jan. 14 Kalookan Queen Stakes, she once again impressed with a 7 1/2-length victory.

"She's a nice filly, but she had to work for it today," Baze said. "I was very confident in her. She ran a huge race last time and (Sadler) said she's doing better than she was before that race, so that means she was going to run at least as well as she did in her last, and I thought that was good enough to win today."

"Skye Diamonds is a tough mare and so is Coniah. ... Those were tough horses she beat today, so we'll see where it goes from here."

Bred in Kentucky by Abrahams, out of the Open Forum mare Azure Spring, Selcourt now has $163,920 in earnings from five starts.

Earlier in the card Holly and David Wilson's Pubilius Syrus won his second straight stakes on the Santa Anita grass, with a stalk-and-pounce victory in the $75,000 Baffle Stakes.

With an ideal off-the-pace trip behind dueling leaders Afleet Ascent and Psycho Dar in the about 6 1/2-furlong sprint down the Santa Anita hillside turf course, the 3-year-old Candy Ride colt made his move three wide in the stretch under jockey Kent Desormeaux and hit the wire a length in front. Afleet Ascent held gamely to finish second.

Pubilius Syrus had found all of his success around two turns until the Baffle. He broke his maiden going a mile at Santa Anita in September, then placed in the Cecil B. DeMille Stakes (G3T) before his first stakes score in the one-mile Eddie Logan Dec. 29.

"There wasn't a mile race for him for another three weeks, and he was tearing down his stall, so he needed something to do," said winning jockey Kent Desormeaux. BH

FAVERSHAM TRIES STAKES COMPANY IN CALIFORNIA CUP DERBY

By Jeremy Balan

@BH\_JBalan

After an encouraging first start sprinting Jan. 15, Perry and Denise Martin's Favershams, the last full sibling to two-time Horse of the Year California Chrome, will stretch out and step up into stakes company in the $200,000 California Cup Derby Feb. 19 at Santa Anita Park.

Although Alan Sherman, assistant trainer to his father Art Sherman, acknowledges it will be a tough task for the Lucky Pulpit ridgling—who closed from last in his six-furlong debut to finish second behind fellow Cal Cup Derby entrant Violent Ridge—he expects Favershams to give a good account of himself.

"I expect him to run good," Alan Sherman said. "I know he'll try. He's got a lot of try in him, that horse, and he always has. He definitely wants to go around two turns, so that should help him. Running off a maiden sprint into a stakes going a mile and a sixteenth isn't easy, so he doesn't have to win. I just want a good effort out of him, which I think he'll give me."

After his debut at Santa Anita, the Shermans decided to keep Favershams at Santa Anita to train up to the Cal Cup Derby, rather than ship back to their Los Alamitos Race Course base, because they felt the deeper surface of the Santa Anita main track would get the 3-year-old chestnut in better shape.

"It's hard to win on this track if you're not training on it and working on it," Alan Sherman said. "Before the (renovated) Los Al (in early February), it was just hard, because Los Al was so fast and this track was a little deeper."

"He came out of the race really well and is a lot more aggressive. It turned the light bulb on, and he worked phenomenal the other day. He looked really good and I was really happy with it."

While Favershams may have the most famous family member in the 12-horse Cal Cup Derby field, Robert Baedeker, Michael Pageler, and Michael Sigband's Heck Yeah is one of the most accomplished entrants on the racetrack, and he's shown versatility in his young career.

The Bob Baffert-trained Acclamation colt won his debut in December at Los Alamitos by 5 1/4 lengths sprinting 5 1/2 furlongs, then came back to win the California Cup Turf Sprint Stakes over the Santa Anita hillside turf course by 2 1/2 lengths Jan. 27. The Cal Cup Derby will be his first start around two turns.

Two other Cal-bred stakes winners are in the field—Intimidate and Continental Divide—but Intimidate's stakes win came in the two-turn King Glorious Stakes at Los Alamitos Dec. 16, while Continental Divide scored sprinting in the Aug. 6 Graduation Stakes at Del Mar.

Intimidate, who is trained at Golden Gate Fields by Bob Hess, finished third in the California Derby there last time out Jan. 20 against open company. Hess' son, trainer Bob Hess Jr., also has an entrant in the Cal Cup Derby with Kaleidoscope Kid.

Also on the second "Cal Cup Day" of the Santa Anita meet is the $200,000 California Cup Oaks at a mile on the grass.

Ruis Racing's One Fast Broad, a versatile Decarchy filly who has won two Cal-bred stakes on dirt and placed in two open-company stakes on grass—including a half-length second last time out in the Blue Norther Dec. 31—heads the eight-filly field. BH

NONKONO YUME UPSETS GOLD DREAM IN FEBRUARY STAKES

By Bob Kieckhefer

Nonkono Yume and Gold Dream both missed the break in the February Stakes (G1) Feb. 18 at Tokyo Racecourse but, after a furious stretch run, it was Nonkono Yume a neck in front of the favored Gold Dream at the finish.

Incantation was only a neck farther back in third in the first grade 1 race of the calendar year in Japan and one of the country's two major fixtures over dirt.

The victory carried an automatic entry, plus prepaid fees and a travel allowance, for the Breeders' Cup Classic (G1) Nov. 3 at Churchill Downs through the international Breeders' Cup Challenge.

Gold Dream won both the February Stakes and the Champions Cup (G1) last season and was named Japan's top dirt horse. But he had not raced since the second of those victories, the Champions Cup at Chukyo Racecourse Dec. 3. Trainer Osamu Hirata said before the race he was happy with Gold Dream's conditioning.

"If he doesn't miss the break too badly, I think he has a chance this year, too," the conditioner said.

Despite the best efforts of visiting jockey Ryan Moore, Gold Dream did miss the break in the 1,600-meter (about one mile) event. But so, too, did Nonkono Yume, a 6-year-old Twining gelding who finished second in the Champions Cup in 2015 and the 2016 February Stakes, but hadn't run back to those efforts in recent races. Nonkono Yume was away last in the field of 16, with Gold Dream only two runners in front of him.

They raced that way until the turn, when Moore started Gold Dream on a bold move that found him circling the field to take the lead some 200 meters out. But, even farther outside, Hiroyuke Uchida had Nonkono Yume in full stride. He drew alongside Gold Dream nearing the wire and the two ran together for a few strides before Nonkono Yume put a neck in front and finished off the distance in 1:36 flat.

"The staff tuned him up beautifully and he was in very good form," Uchida said. "I kept him wide and in good striking position so that he could unleash his good late charge at any point, which is probably the reason why we were able to win today."

Nonkono Yume hinted at a reversal of form in his 2018 debut, as he won the Negishi Stakes (G3) at Tokyo—his first win in 26 months. Nonetheless he was only fourth betting choice in the February, witnessed by a crowd of 50,194. BH

CURLIN'S APPROVAL BACK IN INTRIGUING ROYAL DELTA

By Frank Angst

@BH\_FAngst

There will be no shortage of accomplished rivals awaiting Curlin's Approval when she tries to defend her 2017 victory in a revamped Royal Delta Stakes (G3) Feb. 19 at Gulfstream Park.

Last year Curlin's Approval drew off to a six-length victory in the Royal Delta, which was contested at 1 1/16 miles and carried grade 2 status. This year the race, which has attracted eight fillies and mares, has been shortened to a one-turn mile.

Curlin's Approval certainly is capable at one turn, having won the seven-furlong Added Elegance Stakes in 2016 at Gulfstream and last year's seven-furlong Hurricane Bertie Stakes (G3) there. The daughter of Curlin also raced well at the one-turn mile, although she's settled for second in her two most recent races at that distance, the past two editions of the Rampart Stakes (G3) at Gulfstream.

Curlin's Approval, who has finished first or second in 10 of her 16 starts (seven wins), enters off a pair of runner-up finishes in the 2017 Rampart—won by Royal Delta entry Lewis Bay—and this year's Hurricane Bertie. Breeder-owner-trainer Happy Alter believes Curlin's Approval was not quite her best in those two tests.

"There's more to her than in that last race, but we'll have to wait and see," said Alter, whose multiple graded stakes winner breezed five-furlongs in :35.91 Feb. 15. "I'm optimistic about her chances."

Alpha Delta Stables homebred Lewis Bay will make her 5-year-old season debut in the Royal Delta, which will mark her first start since the Dec. 16 Rampart. The daughter of Bernardini will try for a graded stakes win for a fourth consecutive season. Trained by Chad Brown, Lewis Bay certainly could improve on her Rampart effort, which was her only race of 2017, ending a nearly 13-month layoff.

Unbridled Mo will make her 5-year-old debut after she won both her 2017 starts—the Houston Ladies Classic Stakes (G3) at Sam Houston Race Park and the Hilliard Lyons Doubledogdare Stakes (G3) at Keeneland. Campaigned by John Brunetti's Red Oak Stable, trainer Todd Pletcher said the daughter of Uncle Mo needed some rest after the Doubledogdare.

"After she made a couple of road trips, she came back and seemed tired. She lost some weight," Pletcher said. "After talking to the Brunettis, they wanted to keep her in training this year, so we gave her some time and hopefully we'll have a good year with her."

Another accomplished mare entered Monday is Giulia, a Kentucky-bred who will make her United States debut after three stakes wins in Uruguay, including the 2016 Gran Premio Ciudad de Montevideo (G1). She earned champion older mare honors there in 2015. Michael Matz picks up the training duties for the 6-year-old daughter of Sky Mesa. BH

COLLECTIVE AUCTION VALUE OF STAKES WINNERS IS RISING

By Eric Mitchell

@BH\_EMitchell

Finding value at 2-year-olds in training and yearling auctions in 2018 will be increasingly more challenging, as judged by the average price of sale horses who went on to excel in black-type stakes.

Research compiled by BloodHorse MarketWatch shows the average yearling sale price of stakes winners from 2015-17 is 10% higher than the yearling price of stakes winners during the 2014-16 racing seasons. The 2015-17 black-type winners averaged $121,619 as yearlings, compared with $110,741 for the 2014-16 stakes winners. For horses sold as 2-year-olds, the 2015-17 stakes winners averaged $170,569, up 11% from an average of $153,517 for 2014-16 winners.

Overall the market is an effective judge of quality.

The average yearling price of horses who became grade 1 winners during the 2015-17 seasons was $281,414, which was significantly higher than the yearling average of eventual grade 2 winners ($131,778), eventual grade 3 winners ($153,219), and the winners of non-graded black-type races ($89,485). The disparity in 2-year-old averages was less significant among the different classes of graded stakes winners, with grade 1 winners averaging $295,090, grade 2 averaging $234,812, and grade 3 winners averaging $218,093.

Growing strength at the top of the market is clearly indicated by a 40% increase in median yearling price to $160,000 among 2015-17 racehorses of grade 1 quality. The median yearling price of horses at this level during 2014-16 was $112,500.

All SWnrs	1,118	$121,619	$55,000	10%	451	$170,569	$100,000	11%

The only anomaly in the overall trends is with the yearling average and medians for 2015-17 grade 2 winners. While the grade 2 winners cost more overall than grade 3 winners when sold as 2-year-olds, they were less expensive collectively as yearlings. Only one horse among those whose best win was at the grade 2 level sold for more than $500,000. That horse was Mohaymen, who brought $2.2 million. Among the grade 3 winners, however, 11 sold for $500,000 or more as yearlings and the grade 1 winners included 18 that sold in this price range.

In the 2-year-old market, grade 2 horses commanded a substantially higher price. The winners of 2015-17 averaged $234,812, up 17% from the $200,434 average generated by winners during 2014-16.

Value may seem hard to find in the throes of an auction, but note that the median among the grade 1 winners is $160,000. Half the North American grade 1 winners sold as yearlings brought a price at or below $160,000 when the median earnings from those grade 1 races in 2015-17 was $300,000.

The least expensive grade 1 winner in the group is West Point Thoroughbreds' Twilight Eclipse, who Select Sales sold for $1,000 to John Langemeier at the 2010 Keeneland January mixed sale. Langemeier and Dr. Clara Fenger raced him twice and earned more than $41,000 with him before he wound up in the hands of West Point Thoroughbreds. The gelding by the late Purim was retired last year to pursue a second career in eventing. He earned more than $2.1 million at the track. BH
