ENABLE SETTLES INTO MOTHERHOOD

By Lynne Snierston

🐦 @lsnietson

She was the essence of Excellence, the global superstar whose sobriquet "The Queen of Racing" was well earned over five seasons of unparalleled accomplishment on turf courses in four different countries. Now the team at Juddmonte Farms has collective fingers crossed that Enable will prove to be as exceptional a broodmare as she was a racehorse.

The late H.H. Prince Khalid bin Abdullah's fourth generation homebred was retired at the conclusion of her 2020 campaign at age 6 and the two-time Cartier Horse of the Year (2017, 2019) came home to Banstead Manor Stud in Newmarket, England where she was born to begin her next chapter.

On Valentine's Day, Enable had a date with Juddmonte's third generation homebred and 2014 Cartier Horse of the Year Kingman.

Her first foal is due Jan. 14, 2022.

"Obviously, when she retired to stud at the age of 6 years, we were always a little concerned that she would come as an institutionalized filly and have trouble cycling," said Simon Mockridge, the general manager of Juddmonte UK. "Our initial fears about her cycling proved groundless. Everything came easily to Enable on the breeding front, cycling very early, and conceiving to her first covering on the 14th of February—Valentine's Day."

When she was in training with John Gosden, the daughter of Nathaniel and the stakes-winning Sadler's Wells mare Concentric was the very definition of an imposing figure. Her regal bearing, dignity, and grandeur were unmistakable, and she was fit and fine-tuned physically.

"(Enable is) becoming more rounded," said Mockridge. "She's more matronly now."

Now aged 7, impending motherhood suits her.

"My observation of her is she is not a big, masculine mare like so many of the high-class race fillies," continued Mockridge. "She has wonderful presence, size, and scope, and is deep through the girth. She has great heart and lung room but retains the elegance and athleticism of a ballerina. She has wonderful movement at the walk with extra extension through the shoulder. She glides over the ground when she moves in her faster paces, which recently is not very often.

"Physically and mentally, she has all the attributes to make into as good a broodmare as she was a race filly and certainly, she will be given every opportunity to achieve."

There is none more deserving of that than Enable, who has a weighty list of accolades. Despite a significant setback to injury in 2018, she overcame and returned to top form before retiring with a record of 15-2-1 from 19 starts, added 11 group/grade 1 trophies to Juddmonte's case, and earned $14,062,824.

Enable is the only horse in history to win the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes (G1) at Ascot three times (2017, 2019, and 2020). In her first King George VI victory, she was a 3-year-old filly defeating older male rivals. Enable won a total of four group 1 Oaks in her career—three in 2017 (Investic Oaks at Epsom, Darley Irish Oaks at the Curragh, and Darley Yorkshire Oaks at York), and in 2019 she took the Yorkshire Oaks again. Enable beat Europe's finest in back-to-back runnings of the prestigious Qatar Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe (G1) in 2017 and 2018.

As if that weren't enough, the bay invaded American soil in 2018 and captured the Longines Breeders' Cup Turf (G1T) at Churchill Downs, establishing herself forever in the annals of history as she became the only horse to ever win both the Arc and the Breeders' Cup Turf in the same year.

Enable retired as the most successful Juddmonte homebred racehorse by both earnings and number of grade 1 wins in the 40-year history of Prince Khalid's remarkable international breeding and racing program.

"Winning the Arc and the Breeders' Cup in the same year was the cherry on the cake," said Garrett O'Rourke, the general manager of Juddmonte USA. "There are some horses (like Enable) that transcend regular sports stars."

The decision to send Enable to mate with Juddmonte's Kingman, a son of Invincible Spirit, a champion European miler, and one of the world's best young stallions, was the logical one.

On Nov. 10, Kingman's son Palace Pier was announced as the Cartier Award winner as Europe's top older horse after being similarly honored as the best 3-year-old colt in 2020. Palace Pier recorded five group 1 victories in his career and earned over $2.4 million.

"Kingman was an easy choice as her first mating," said Mockridge. "His early results at stud place him as one of the most influential young sires in Europe and the horse is very much making his mark across the international stage. His blistering turn of foot and brilliance over a mile complimented her family, which is very much a classic family that is durable and tough."

"I don't think there will ever be another like her. But we hope that she will pass on her traits, her strength, her will to win, her extraordinary mind, and her athleticism," he added. "And then there are the traits of Kingman. This foal will have every opportunity."

With the filly or colt due to arrive Jan. 14, the anticipation and excitement continues to build in the industry and with the public over the beloved mare's first foal. But while tucked away securely in the segregated broodmare band at Banstead Manor and kept away from the prying eyes of both fans and paparazzi, the Queen of Racing is now the Queen of Serene.

"She always had a reputation of being territorial in her stable environment (when in training with Gosden) and that was the case in the first month back at stud," said Mockridge. "This soon changed once she let down and spent more time in the paddock. In fact, she enjoys being turned out so much that initially she refused to be caught to come in."

Enable came home to Banstead Manor at the same time as Franconia, a homebred 4-year-old multiple stakes-winning daughter of Frankel, and she is also in foal. The two have become quite a pair and are always happily together in their paddock.

"It was beautiful seeing her race as a filly and a mare. She gave the general public and the racing industry a great gift. It's not often that you get a multiple champion like her. It's not something you can gloss over," said Mockridge. "Now she is very quiet, very settled. She was ready to come back and be a broodmare."

Unfortunately, the racing world suffered a tragic loss when Prince Khalid died Jan. 12 at the age of 85. He would have been absolutely delighted with Enable's foal, and to one day see this fifth-generation homebred carrying his iconic pink and green silks.

"It's been a sad year for us. Now there is a lot to look forward to. It's always exciting to look forward to new life," said Mockridge, who added the prince loved to see his homebreds win. "The season has gone so quickly that it's difficult to grasp that we are now into the last trimester of her pregnancy and now the focus is firmly on her foaling."

"As you can imagine His Highness Prince Khalid's family and the whole Juddmonte team are incredibly excited at the prospect of seeing her first colt or filly. There will also be the normal degree of anxiety and hope that all goes according to plan."

The Juddmonte team fully understands that come mid-January all eyes will be turned their way, traditional racing media and even non-sporting media interest will be at a fever pitch, and social media platforms will explode.

"I am sure that as the date nears the media attention will also peak—and why not? She was the darling of European racing with a unique race record—of three King George victories, two Arcs, the first horse to win an Arc and Breeders' Cup race in the same year," said Mockridge. "She was simply outstanding and a wonderful advertisement for our sport. Her performances followed and emulated some of the Juddmonte greats—Frankel, Kingman, and Arrogate—during a golden period from 2010 to 2020. We're all incredibly excited." BH

ON RACING

WITH JAY HOVDEY

DAY IN, DAY OUT, RACING'S TUNE DOESN'T CHANGE

By Jay Hovdey

@JayHovdey

For some reason, I awoke the morning of Nov. 19 refreshed, invigorated, inspired. Why? It was trash day, yes, but that wasn't the answer. Lingering effects of the lunar eclipse? Nope, slept right through it. A rising hopefulness of unity on the political landscape? Maybe not.

Then it hit me. The Nineteenth of November is International Men's Day. Don't laugh. It's a real thing.

In trying to take International Men's Day seriously, this skeptic consulted a list of other clearly whimsical "days" adorning the yearly calendar. To my surprise, I already was celebrating several of them.

I had made a point of marking Alfred Hitchcock Day on March 12 by watching the films in which the director collaborated with actor John Forsythe, racing's all-time best Hollywood friend. "Topaz" was a solid thriller and "The Trouble with Harry" was a comedy so black that even its technicolor presentation was a joke.

As the weather warmed, I enthusiastically participated in Sauntering Day back on June 19, but I think I might have sprained something, so I might have to skip it next year. Or maybe just double down on Relaxation Day (Aug. 15) from now on.

Every day should be Lover's Day (April 23), Taco Day (Oct. 4), or Miniature Golf Day (Sept. 21). There's never enough. And how could anyone have a problem with Random Act of Kindness Day (Feb. 17), Public Sleeping Day (Feb. 28), or Chocolate Cupcake Day (Oct. 18)?

WALLY SKALLU

Fans observe the paddock for the Breeders' Cup at Del Mar

The people behind Work Naked Day (Feb. 5) and No Pants Day (May 7) seem to have a particular agenda that's not for everyone. The push for Be Kind to Lawyers Day (April 13), Dentist's Day (March 6), and Insurance Nerd Day (July 18) clearly required heavy lobbying from the obviously narrow interests. And Columnists Day on April 18? Really? That's got to be the doing of the Clancy brothers.

Sorry to say, the calendar has a few built-in prejudices. There is a National Girlfriend Day (Aug. 1) but no boyfriend equivalent, and a Saxophone Day (Nov. 6) while nothing for the violin. But you can do both Backwards Day and Opposite Day during the same week in January, so there's that.

An international day celebrating men makes about as much sense as Something on a Stick Day (March 28) or Put a Pillow on Your Fridge Day (May 29). It certainly does not rise to the level of legitimacy conferred by the U.S. Congress upon the date of Dec. 13 as the National Day of the Horse, established in 2004 "to encourage U.S. citizens to be mindful of the contribution of horses to the economy, history, and character of the United States." Mark your calendars.

As it turns out, the concept for an International Men's Day came from an assistant professor at the University of Missouri who taught "men's issues." The idea petered out after a few years but was revived by another professor, this one from Trinidad and Tobago, who found enough of a 21st century following to spread acknowledgement of the day around the globe.

The program insists that men should have a day to reflect on their accomplishments, examine health issues, and push back against misandry (prejudice against men). This suggests that everything has been solved in terms of gender balance, whether the category is career opportunity, legal protection, or social attitudes, although both history and current events tell a different tale.

Take Thoroughbred racing, for instance. If nothing else, the Breeders' Cup should serve as a microcosm of the sport, distorted somewhat because of the money involved but otherwise a window into how men are doing. So, let's go to the scoreboard and break down gender participation in the department of human skill sets for the runners in the 14 Breeders' Cup events that took place Nov. 5-6.

The 148 horses competing in those 14 races were ridden by 41 jockeys, which made for a full house in the Del Mar room. However, only one of them needed the small but well-appointed facilities saved for women who dare to compete against men. That was Sophie Doyle, who rode Tough to Tame in the TVG Breeders' Cup Juvenile Presented by Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (G1) and ran about where you'd figure the longest shot on the board would run.

Those 148 runners (there would have been an even 150 had two of Charlie Appleby's behaved at the gate) were trained by 71 different trainers. Three of those 71 were women, two based in the U.S.—Leah Gyarmati and Cherie DeVaux—and the other a native of London who trains in Ireland. As identified to Breeders' Cup customers, her name was either Mrs. John Harrington (as found in the Nov. 6 Breeders' Cup program), "J Harrington" (in traditional Daily Racing Form past performances), or "Harrington, Mrs." in the Equibase chart of the FanDuel Breeders' Cup Mile Presented by PDJF (G1T), in which her Real Appeal finished ninth, beaten 3 3/4 lengths.

Her name, for the record, is Jessica, born Jessica Jane Fowler, and a trainer of National Hunt horses and occasional flat runners since 1989. They have included winners of the Cheltenham Gold Cup and the Irish One Thousand Guineas (G1). Call her "JJ" if you will, although I'm pretty sure no one does, but if there was enough space in the DRF PPs for the 15 characters in Fausto Gutierrez or Hideaki Fujiwara, or the 17 in Christophe Clement, there should have been room for Jessica Harrington.

(As for "Mrs. John Harrington," good grief. Are we to be saddled forever with England's 19th century style book?)

Granted, the use of a solitary Breeders' Cup to draw broad conclusions is dicey. A cursory view of the sport might lead a casual observer to conclude there is an increasing pool of talent and balance of opportunity, given the gender mix of faces and voices on simulcasts and multi-media broadcasts, while women also seem to be making a slow, steady march upwards through the rungs of management ladders.

Then again, it might be possible that many women who are eminently qualified for gender neutral roles in racing—which would be anything—take a look at the state of the sport and send their resumes elsewhere. There is something discouraging in the fact that every day is International Men's Day in Thoroughbred racing. More women taking up the challenge would help, no doubt. But maybe what the sport really needs is better men. BH

LEOFRIC TO RELOCATE TO DARBY DAN FARM FOR 2022

By BloodHorse Staff

Leofric, a grade 1-winning son of perennial leading sire and sire of sires Candy Ride, is being relocated from Rockridge Stud in New York to Darby Dan Farm near Lexington for the upcoming breeding season, Darby Dan Farm announced Nov. 21. His 2022 fee has been set at $7,500, stands and nurses.

Bred in Kentucky by Peter E. Blum Thoroughbreds, Leofric was purchased for $330,000 by Woodford Racing from Dromoland Farm's consignment at the 2014 Keeneland September Yearling Sale. He went through the ring again as a 3-year-old at the 2016 Keneeland November Breeding Stock Sale after a third and two fourth-place finishes in his first three starts. Scooped up for $100,000 by BSW Bloodstock/Liz Crow from Lane's End's consignment, Leofric was then campaigned by Steve Landers and trained by Brad Cox.

The handsome gray broke his maiden as a 4-year-old at Oaklawn Park and added two allowance victories to his CV that year before shining on the track. Leofric won five of seven starts during his 5-year-old campaign, punctuated by scores in the Clark Handicap Presented by Norton Healthcare (G1), Hagyard Fayette Stakes (G2), and West Virginia Governor's Stakes (G3).

Leofric bankrolled $951,040 in an exceptional racing career. All told, he won eight of 14 career starts and placed in four others, including a third-place effort in the Woodward Stakes Presented by NYRA Bets (G1) at Saratoga Race Course.

Retired to stud in 2020, Leofric has been represented this year by his well-received first foals.

"There's a lot to like about Leofric. He has a stallion's pedigree, and his first foals are outstanding," said Ryan Norton, stallion director at Darby Dan Farm. "Being a grade 1 winner by Candy Ride, it makes a lot of sense to bring him to Kentucky now to give him every opportunity to succeed as a stallion and carry on his sire's legacy. We are excited to share him with breeders."

Candy Ride is the sire of Horse of the Year and Breeders' Cup Classic (G1) winner Gun Runner, who stands atop the leading freshman sire list this year after his brilliant 2-year-old filly Echo Zulu snared her third straight grade 1 win in the NetJets Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies (G1) at Del Mar.

Leofric is produced from the Unbridled's Song mare Lady Godiva, a half sister to multiple graded stakes winner Multiple Choice and stakes-placed, multiple stakes producer Proposal. His second dam, Lady of Choice, is a half sister to grade 1 winner and grade 1 producer

DUBAI WORLD CUP HERO MYSTIC GUIDE RETURNS TO TRACK

By Molly Rollins

@BH_MRollins

Dubai World Cup Sponsored by Emirates Airline (G1) hero Mystic Guide has returned to the track for training four months after undergoing surgery to remove a chip from the colt's right knee. After a second-place finish in the July 3 Suburban Handicap (G2) at Belmont Park to Max Player, the chip was discovered and Mystic Guide was sent to Dr. Larry Bramlage of Rood & Riddle Equine Hospital in Lexington for the procedure.

The morning of Nov. 21 Stidham Racing posted a video on Twitter with trainer Michael Stidham observing a happy and healthy Mystic Guide jogging alongside his pony at Fair Grounds Race Course & Slots.

Stidham said via text to BloodHorse on Sunday that Mystic Guide has "just returned to the track so we are a few weeks from his first official work and we will see how he's coming along before picking his first race back."

Mystic Guide trains in March ahead of his Dubai World Cup win at Meydan Racecourse

Mystic Guide made only three starts this year before his surgery, beginning with a win in the Razorback Handicap (G3) at Oaklawn Park as a springboard for his overseas venture to Dubai. At Meydan, the Godolphin homebred turned in the best performance of his career with a dominating 3 3/4-length victory.

The 4-year-old son of Ghostzapper touts a record of 4-3-2 from nine starts and earnings of $7,593,200. As a 3-year-old, he earned his first graded stakes win in the Jim Dandy Stakes (G2) at Saratoga Race Course. BH

Ginobili will head to the Cigar Mile Handicap (G1) at Aqueduct Racetrack Dec. 4 for his next start, co-owner Slam Dunk Racing tweeted Nov. 20 after the 4-year-old gelding returned to the work tab for the first time since he ran second in the Big Ass Fans Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile (G1) at Del Mar Nov. 6.

Ginobili wins the Pat O'Brien Stakes at Del Mar

The Richard Baltas trainee worked at San Luis Rey Training Center Saturday, going four furlongs on the dirt in :48 2/5.

Ginobili ran a big race to come from mid-pack and finish second best in the Dirt Mile 5 3/4 lengths behind winner Life Is Good.

The son of Munnings is owned in partnership by Slam Dunk Racing, Baltas, Jerry McClanahan, and Michael Nentwig. He heads into the Cigar Mile with earnings of $449,825 from 14 starts, from which has a record of 3-2-1. This year he added a graded victory to his record in the Pat O'Brien Stakes (G2) in August. The previous year at 3, he was runner up in the San Vicente Stakes (G2).

Bred in Kentucky by Hinkle Farms, the bay was sourced by Baltas from Hinkle's consignment at the 2018 Keeneland September Yearling Sale for $35,000. Ginobili is out of the grade 3-placed Sharp Humor mare Find the Humor. His dam's first foal, Silly Factor, a 7-year-old daughter of The Factor, is black-type-placed. BH

JAPAN

JAPANESE TRIPLE CROWN WINNER CONTRAIL TO STUD IN 2022

By Naohiro Goda

Contrail will retire after his last start in the Nov. 28 Japan Cup in association with Longines (G1) and a farewell ceremony is conducted in the parade ring of Tokyo Racecourse. The son of Deep Impact will begin stud duty at Shadai Stallion Station in 2022, the Japan Racing Association and Shadai Corporation announced Nov. 19. His stud fee has not been announced yet.

Contrail is the third foal out of Rhodochrosite, who North Hills' Koji Maeda bought at the 2011 Keeneland September Yearling Sale for $385,000 from Taylor Made Sales Agency's consignment. Contrail's second dam, Folklore, was the 2005 U.S. champion juvenile filly and is a half sister to the dam of this year's likely U.S. champion 3-year-old colt, Essential Quality.

The 4-year-old Contrail is trained by Yoshito Yahagi, who saddled two Breeders' Cup winners at Del Mar Nov. 6. He won the 2019 Hopeful Stakes (G1) at Nakayama and the 2020 Japanese Triple Crown for owner Shinji Maeda, brother to breeder Koji Maeda.

Contrail experienced his first defeat in the 2020 Japan Cup (G1) when second to Almond Eye. He finished third in the Osaka Hai (G1) April 4 and was second in the Tenno Sho (Autumn, G1) Oct. 31.

Regular jockey Yuichi Fukunaga will be back aboard Contrail in the Japan Cup. Yuga Kawada is booked to ride Shahryar, who won this year's Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby, G1) with Fukunaga in the irons. BH

GRAN ALEGRIA BOWS OUT WITH MILE CHAMPIONSHIP VICTORY

By Bob Kieckhefer

Gran Alegria wrapped up her stellar career in a blaze of glory through the stretch run of the Mile Championship (G1) Nov. 21 at Hanshin Racecourse, sprinting to the lead and edging away to score her sixth grade 1 win.

The Deep Impact mare was clearly best of the 16-horse field, coming from well back under a confident ride by Japan's leading jockey, Christophe Lemaire, to score by three-quarters of a length. But as she heads to retirement, the 3-year-old colts who followed her across the line showed promise there will be no lack of talent among Japanese milers in coming seasons.

Lemaire kept Gran Alegria out of traffic during the run down the backstretch but then was forced widest of all as the field exited the sweeping turn into the stretch. Kicking into gear near the 200-meter marker, Gran Alegria quickly picked up the pacesetters and was going away at the finish.

Had it not been for the accomplished mare, Schnell Meister would have been celebrating a coming-out party against older rivals. As Gran Alegria was flying up the outside, that Kingman colt was knifing through traffic to finish second, a half-length in front of Danon the Kid, a 3-year-old son of Just a Way.

Schnell Meister now picks up the baton from Gran Alegria as both are owned by Sunday Racing and both were bred at Northern Farm. Gran Alegria was produced by the Tapit mare Tapitsfly while Schnell Meister is out of the Soldier Hollow mare Serienholde.

Lemaire, who scored the 1,500th win and 40th grade 1 victory of his Japan Racing Association career, pronounced himself "relieved and happy" with the outcome of the Mile Championship.

"The most important mission for me in her last run of her career was to bring out the best performance, her true form. And she did just that," Lemaire said.

"We were positioned a little further back but it didn't worry me much and she has this really good finishing speed at the stretch like she showed today. She's been a special horse since she was a 2-year-old, winning all those big races, and today she showed us again that she's of a different class. I will miss her."

Gran Alegria (right) wins the Mile Championship at Hanshin Racecourse

Gran Alegria finished in 1:32.6 as she captured the Mile Championship for the second straight year. Her grade 1 wins also include the Oka Sho (Japanese One Thousand Guineas) in 2019, the Yasuda Kinen and Sprinters stakes in 2020, and the Victoria Mile earlier this year.

The performances of both Schnell Meister and Danon the Kid were noteworthy.

Schnell Meister stepped up to the top level for the first time winning the NHK Mile Cup (G1) at Tokyo Racecourse May 9 but was third in the Yasuda Kinen (G1) a month later while facing older rivals. He returned from a break to win the Mainichi Okan (G2) Oct. 10, going 1,800 meters (about 1 1/8 miles).

Danon the Kid was last year's Japanese 2-year-old male champion thanks to a victory in the Hopeful Stakes (G1) at Nakayama. He subsequently failed to live up to that promise, finishing 15th in the Satsuki Sho (Japanese Two Thousand Guineas, G1), and showed some improvement after some time off, reporting fourth in the Fuji Stakes (G2) Oct. 23.

Trainer Takayuki Yasuda said Danon the Kid had excuses for the flat performance in the stretch run in the Fuji Stakes.

"I suppose that's partly due to him returning from a layoff," Yasuda said. "He has sharpened up since then, which means he had a lot of room for improvement in his last race."

With Gran Alegria off to her second career, Schnell Meister, Danon the Kid, and the other 3-year-olds now have a little more room to show improvement. BH

GOLDEN SIXTY SHINES AGAIN IN JOCKEY CLUB MILE

By Bob Kieckhefer

Even a cursory glance at the triple feature on the Nov. 21 program at Sha Tin Racecourse would have led to the judgment that Golden Sixty was the sure thing and, after that, well ... hmmm.

And that's how it played out as the best of Hong Kong's horse population battled it out for a chance at the four group 1 events comprising the Longines Hong International Races over the same turf Dec. 12.

Golden Sixty, Hong Kong's reigning Horse of the Year, rolled to an easy, last-to-first victory in the BOCHK Private Wealth Jockey Club Mile (G2), scoring his 15th straight win even though jockey Vincent Ho said he was far from totally fit in his seasonal debut after three trial heats.

"He definitely wasn't at his best today and we're still building him up," Ho said. "After this race he should be pretty close to his top form. We'll see how he pulls up and do some recovery work on him and get him ready for the Internationals."

No matter the fitness of his mount, Ho rode with supreme confidence, holding Golden Sixty last by a good margin into the turn, then coming wide around rivals to hit the front inside the 100-meter mark. Once there, Golden Sixty strode out to win by one length. The final time on the good turf was 1:34.55.

The local superstar was followed home by two good ones—multiple group 1 winner Waikuku and reigning BMW Hong Kong Derby winner Sky Darci.

Golden Sixty won last year's Longines Hong Kong Mile (G1) and, despite an expected influx of talent from abroad, is likely to be a heavy favorite to repeat as he rewrites the Hong Kong record books.

The Jockey Club Mile win boosted Golden Sixty, a Medaglia d'Oro gelding, to his 18th overall win in Hong Kong, equaling the mark held jointly by Beauty Generation. His 15 successive victories have him just two shy of Silent Witness' 17.

"I must say we were confident in this race but I'm happy to see him win again," said typically understated trainer Francis Lui. "This horse has got a very good fighting heart and once he relaxes he has a very good turn of foot."

While Golden Sixty was the "banker" on the program, the other two races were up for grabs. Neither the BOCHK Jockey Club Cup (G2) at 2,000 meters (about 1 1/4 miles) nor the BOCHK Private Banking Jockey Club Sprint (G2) at 1,200 meters (about six furlongs) had a solid favorite and longshots rolled home first in both.

The international raiders for the Sprint, Cup, and 2,400-meter (about 1 1/2-mile) Vase on the Dec. 12 program will be encouraged.

The connections of Golden Sixty in the presentation ceremony for the Jockey Club Mile

Lucky Patch, a 5-year-old El Roca gelding, rolled down the stretch from the middle of a 10-horse field under jockey Jerry Chau to capture the Sprint by three-quarters of a length from Naboo Attack. The time was 1:07.98.

Although Lucky Patch hasn't measured up to the lofty standards of Hong Kong's long line of top sprinters, he did score his second straight win, both in group 2 events. And he does benefit from the skills of trainer Lui, who also manages Golden Sixty.

Lui praised the effort of 21-year-old Chau, recently out of his apprenticeship, but said Zac Purton, who opted for Naboo Attack on the Jockey Club program, will be back aboard for the big race next month.

The results of the Jockey Club Cup are hard to evaluate as some runners were auditioning for the Cup at the same distance on the December program while others were prepping for the Vase.

In any event, Reliable Team went straight to the front for jockey Derek Leung as the field went into the first turn and wasn't caught, although Ka Ying Star missed by just a neck with a final bid. The favorite, Glorious Dragon, was along for third. The final time was 2:03.86.

Reliable Team went 1-for-12 last season and was 0-for-2 this term as he ventured as high as group 2 for the first time. This time, he put his rivals to sleep behind him before the sprint to the wire.

"We were always trying to get him to lead in the race and he got a bit lucky. There was no pressure on us to go too quick," Leung said. "So the horse was quite relaxed and he's very fit. Step by step, we built the speed up. He responded very well and I think we were very lucky."

Trainer Frankie Lor said Reliable Team is entered for both the Vase and the Cup on Dec. 12 but added, "I think 2,400 meters should be better for him. We need to keep the horse in good form and then we'll see." BH

GROUP 1 WINNER ADDEYBB ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

By David Milnes/Racing Post

William Haggas hopes Addeybb is "over the worst" after an infection left him fearing the star globetrotter might never race again.

An infected blood clot caused the group 1 winner to lose a significant amount of weight and left Haggas concerned for his welfare.

The son of Pivotal finished sixth in the QIPCO Champion Stakes (G1) at Ascot last month, a race he won in 2020, but was subsequently lame and then spent time with the vet after the clot was discovered.

Haggas said: "Unfortunately Addeybb developed a blood clot on his hock after the Champion Stakes, which got infected. He came home from the vets a few days ago and the bloods we've taken from him since indicate he's going the right way."

"When I first went to see him I thought he looked dreadful. To my eye he looked like he had lost 50 kilos in a week. When I spoke to his owner I said there is a strong chance that he may not race again.

"I'm not saying he was never going to live but these things can go badly wrong. He looks a lot brighter now. I think and hope we are over the worst."

A third consecutive appearance at the Sydney Autumn Racing Carnival in 2022 has already been ruled out.

On his last Australian trip, the 7-year-old beat subsequent Lexus Melbourne Cup (G1) winner Verry Elleegant when landing the Longines Queen Elizabeth Stakes (G1) for a second time at Randwick in April.

Addeybb, who was taking his Aussie group 1 tally to three that day, has had only two domestic races this year.

Haggas said: "Hopefully in the next fortnight we can turn him away in a paddock for a break, but we'll have to give Australia a miss this time."

MOUNT ROUSSE JOINS FAMOUS NAMES ON OFFER AT TATTERSALLS

By Tom Peacock/Racing Post

The Nov. 22 Tattersalls December Yearling Sale provides a final shop window in the calendar for some of the biggest names in the game.

Mount Rousse Stud in County Cork is pretty far removed in size from the majority who will be using the Park Paddocks boxes but the event is of equal importance to the Gallagher family, who will offer a sibling of a filly who might be considered unfortunate not to have become a U.S. graded star.

Their representative, Lot 193, is a Footstepsinthesand half sister to Tetragonal, a daughter of Mehmas who won her sole start for Hugo Palmer in 2020 before joining the stable of Richard Baltas. Her most notable recent effort has been a third to smart performers Madone and Going Global in the San Clemente Stakes (G2T) at Del Mar in July.

"We're a very small concern; we have five broodmares, three National Hunt and two flat," explained Tony Gallagher, the stud's patriarch.

"Tetragonal has done really well. Marie Harding of Glen Stables sold her for us (at Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale for $24,208 to Amanda Skiffington/Hugo Palmer) and she won on her first day out before being sold on to America.

"She ran in the Surfer Girl Stakes, and was beaten only a neck by Madone, and actually she was one of the 12 declared for the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf (G1T) but went lame the day before.

"We were very disappointed because Richard Baltas thought

Tetragonal wins a 2020 maiden race at Beverley Racecourse

an awful lot of her, she ran her last race in a grade 1 (Del Mar Oaks), he expected her to win it but something happened and she pulled up.

"Then she appeared in the sales at Keeneland the week before last, she made $200,000 but, as far as we know, she's going back into training, which would be fantastic. I think she probably will win a big one, the people who bought her send them to some big trainers, so we'll see."

Tetragonal's dam, Crystal Snowflake, was picked up for €20,000 ($21,294) unraced by Gallagher's wife, Mary, while the mare's other foal to have appeared so far, Clear Quartz, is also a winner in Ireland.

Of the yearling, Tony Gallagher continued: "Marie has prepared her again and she's done a wonderful job. We think she'll do quite well because she's very athletic, with a good temperament.

"I think the Danehill Dancer/Sadler's Wells cross in the mare seems to be very good. She's in foal to Ghaiyyath and we'll probably go back to Mehmas again this time."

Mary and Tony Gallagher

Gallagher's daughter, Emma Jayne, plays a significant role and has been responsible for breeding the 2010 Irish Arkle winner An Cathaoir Mor from the stud, as well as continuing to produce foals from several of the chaser's siblings.

She also went to particular lengths to find a filly in Kazakhstan who had been sold by Mount Rousse before the family subsequently lost the significant broodmare Gift of Spring without having any of her other daughters. Two years ago, Golden Temps' first foal by Ribchester made an impressive €100,000 ($110,784) at the 2019 Goffs November Foal Sale.

"I think there are 20 million people in Kazakhstan and my daughter managed to source her," says Gallagher.

"We sell the odd yearling and had a couple of foals in Tattersalls (Ireland) this month.

"One was a Westerner half sister to Darling Miss, a three-time winner who Gordon Elliott trained, and the other was by Elusive Pimpernel, he's a half brother to a good horse called Westerner Point, we got €33,000 ($38,264) for him and were very happy with that."

Last year's top lot was a 300,000 guineas ($418,733) Sea The Stars filly out of Investec Epsom Oaks (G1) winner Talent, and that stallion has six still engaged including an obvious highlight.

The ill-fated Sea of Class, who so nearly beat Enable in the 2018 Qatar Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe (G1) as well as claiming the Darley Irish Oaks (G1) and Darley Yorkshire Oaks (G1), is one of this sale's greatest alumni and the catalog features a full brother (Lot 30) from Oak Lodge & Springfield House Stud. The mare, Holy Moon, has produced an incredible six more black-type performers in Italy.

The sale also features another significant consignment from Shadwell Estates, which is set to offload 14 quality yearlings.

WWW.TATTERSALLS.COM

Sea of Class in the ring at the 2016 Tattersalls December Yearling Sale

They include a Lope de Vega colt from the family of Legatissimo and Fame And Glory (Lot 72), an Oasis Dream colt out of Natagora's daughter Raaqy (Lot 100) as well as a very closely related Tamayuz filly (Lot 120), and a Shamardal colt out of 2014 Prix de Ris-Orangis (G3) scorer Thawaany (Lot 138).

Galileos will become an increasingly scarce commodity and there is one in the catalog, offered by New England Stud.

Triermore Stud has been breeding from the 2012 Prix de Sandringham (G2) winner Laugh Out Loud and offering her exclusive covers. This colt (Lot 47) is a full brother to Platinum Warrior, who landed the 2019 San Marcos Stakes (G2T) at Santa Anita Park.

JAXON TRAVELER TOPS FIELD FOR STEEL VALLEY SPRINT

By BloodHorse Staff

West Point Thoroughbreds and Marvin Delfiner's Jaxon Traveler will be making the journey to Hollywood Gaming Mahoning Valley Race Course Nov. 22 to contest the $250,000 Steel Valley Sprint Stakes. The six-furlong dirt test for 3-year-olds, which drew a full field of 12, is the highlight of the Mahoning Valley meet.

Jaxon Traveler, trained by Hall of Famer Steve Asmussen, is a three-time stakes winner and was twice graded stakes-placed this year. The Maryland-bred has never been out of the money in 10 trips to the post.

After speeding to a 2 3/4-length win in the April 24 Bachelor Stakes at Oaklawn Park, the son of Munnings was a solid second in the May 15 Chick Lang Stakes (G3) on Preakness Day followed by placings in the Woodstock Stakes over the Woodbine Tapeta track and third to eventual Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint (G1T) hero Golden Pal in the Quick Call Stakes (G3T) at Saratoga Race Course.

Prior to the Steel Valley Sprint, Jaxon Traveler cruised to an easy victory in the Aug. 21 Star De Naskra Stakes for Maryland-bred/-sired sophomores at Pimlico Race Course before returning to the turf in his most recent effort, where he came up three quarters of a length short in the Sept. 17 Allied Forces Stakes at Belmont Park.

"We have tried him a few times on the turf and he is certainly a bit more of a dirt horse but still runs well," commented Toby Sheets, assistant to Asmussen. "He has been a very consistent horse for us and has been training good leading into this race."

The colt will have the services of Gerardo Corrales in the irons for the first time from post 3.

Boasting the highest Beyer Speed Figure of not only this field but tied for the top spot in the United States in 2021 is Bill Mott-trained Baby Yoda who earned a 114 for his effort at Saratoga Sept. 4 after crushing an allowance field by 4 1/4 lengths.

If his name wasn't enough to catch the public eye, his back-to-back dominant performances this summer at Saratoga certainly were and led him to his first start in stakes company, the Oct. 9 Vosburgh Stakes (G2) at Belmont Park. He finished third to his older counterparts, grade 1-placed Following Sea and grade 1 winner Firenze Fire.

"Baby Yoda is a nice horse, a lot of fun to be around, and we have been slowly working him up the ladder," stated Mott. "He caught a tough field last out in the Vosburgh and after the race, we made the decision to point him towards the Steel Valley Sprint. It's a good purse and we will be in our own age group."

Owned by Wachtel Stable, Gary Barber, Pantofel Stable, and Jerold Zaro, Baby Yoda will be entering this race looking for the first stakes win of his young career.

The Florida-bred son of Prospective will be reunited with jockey

Jose Ortiz who rode him to both of his victories at Saratoga.

Scheduled to run just before the Steel Valley Sprint is the $75,000 Hollywood Gaming Mahoning Distaff Stakes headlined by Todd Beattie-trained multiple grade 3 winner Victim of Love who will find herself facing off against 12 other rivals. BH
