DOMINANT MARYLAND SIRE GREAT NOTION PENSIONED

Great Notion at Northview Stallion Station

Great Notion, Maryland's eight-time leading sire and a dominant stallion in the Mid-Atlantic region, has been retired from stud duty, Northview Stallion Station announced Nov. 19.

The 25-year-old son of Elusive Quality has been pensioned at Northview's farm near Chesapeake City, Md., which has been his home for more than two decades for a "peaceful and well-earned retirement," according to general manager David Wade.

"Great Notion has been nothing short of transformational for breeding in Maryland," Wade added. "His ability to upgrade mares, his consistency year after year, and the sheer quality of his runners have elevated our entire regional program. Retiring him now is simply doing right by the horse. He's earned every comfort we can give him, and his impact will continue to be felt for generations."

Great Notion has held leading sire titles in Maryland for 10 years, starting as the state's leading freshman sire in 2008 and the only member of the Maryland freshman class to sire a stakes winner that year. He was runner-up as a second-crop sire by progeny earnings to roster mate Domestic Dispute in 2009 but returned to the top spot as a third-crop sire with more than $1.1 million in progeny earnings. His third-crop year was strong enough to put him among Maryland's top 10 overall sires for 2010.

As the career of another dominant Mid-Atlantic sire Not For Love started to wane, Great Notion's influence gained momentum to fill the void. Great Notion first became Maryland's general leading sire in 2018 with more than $3.77 million in progeny earnings and the highest number of black-type stakes winners (nine) and stakes performers (14). He would remain a fixture at the top of the state's sire standings through this year. For the Mid-Atlantic (including Pennsylvania and West Virginia), Great Notion became the region's overall leading sire in 2022 and has held the title since then.

Bred in Kentucky by Jayeff B Stables, Great Notion was a member of the first crop by prominent sire Elusive Quality. As a racehorse, he won the 2003 Southwest Stakes and then earned graded credentials as a sprinter with runner-up performances in the King's Bishop Stakes (G1) and Amsterdam Stakes (G2).

As a stallion, Great Notion has sired 46 black-type winners (7.6% from foals of racing age) and 67 black-type performers for his career so far. His progeny have collectively earned more than $49 million and average $102,038 per starter. Consistency would be a hallmark of his sire career, with 79% of his foals becoming racehorses and 79% of his starters becoming winners. He was represented by a stakes winner in 18 consecutive crops and was the sire of at least one winner on the annual Maryland Million program for 16 consecutive years. He would sire at least one winner in every Maryland Million division, capping this achievement in 2024 when his son Brilliant Ice won the Maryland Million Classic Stakes.

Great Notion's top performers included millionaire and graded stakes winner Coastal Mission and multiple graded stakes winners Future Is Now and Havelock. His runners possessed durability as well with his daughter Anna's Bandit winning 17 of 39 starts and capturing nine stakes along the way. Multiple stakes winners Twisted Ride made 36 starts, Witty made 34 starts, Alwaysinahurry ran 30 times, and Fille d'Esprit raced 28 times. Karan's Notion won a single stakes in the 2020 Maryland Million Sprint Handicap but raced 59 times and earned nearly $500,000.

His progeny rewrote some records as well. His daughter Jazzy Idea, a homebred for Edwin Merryman, set a 6-furlong course record of 1:07.45 on the turf at Laurel Park in the 2012 Jameela Stakes and then broke her own record three races later in the Laurel Dash Stakes going 1:07.29 the same year. Ruby Notion, a homebred for Silverton Hill Farm, set a 6 1/2-furlong course record of 1:15.80 in the 2018 Kentucky Downs Ladies Sprint Stakes (G3T).

Wade said Great Notion's ability to sire elite talent across different surfaces, distances, and ages made him a cornerstone of the state's breeding and racing success story.

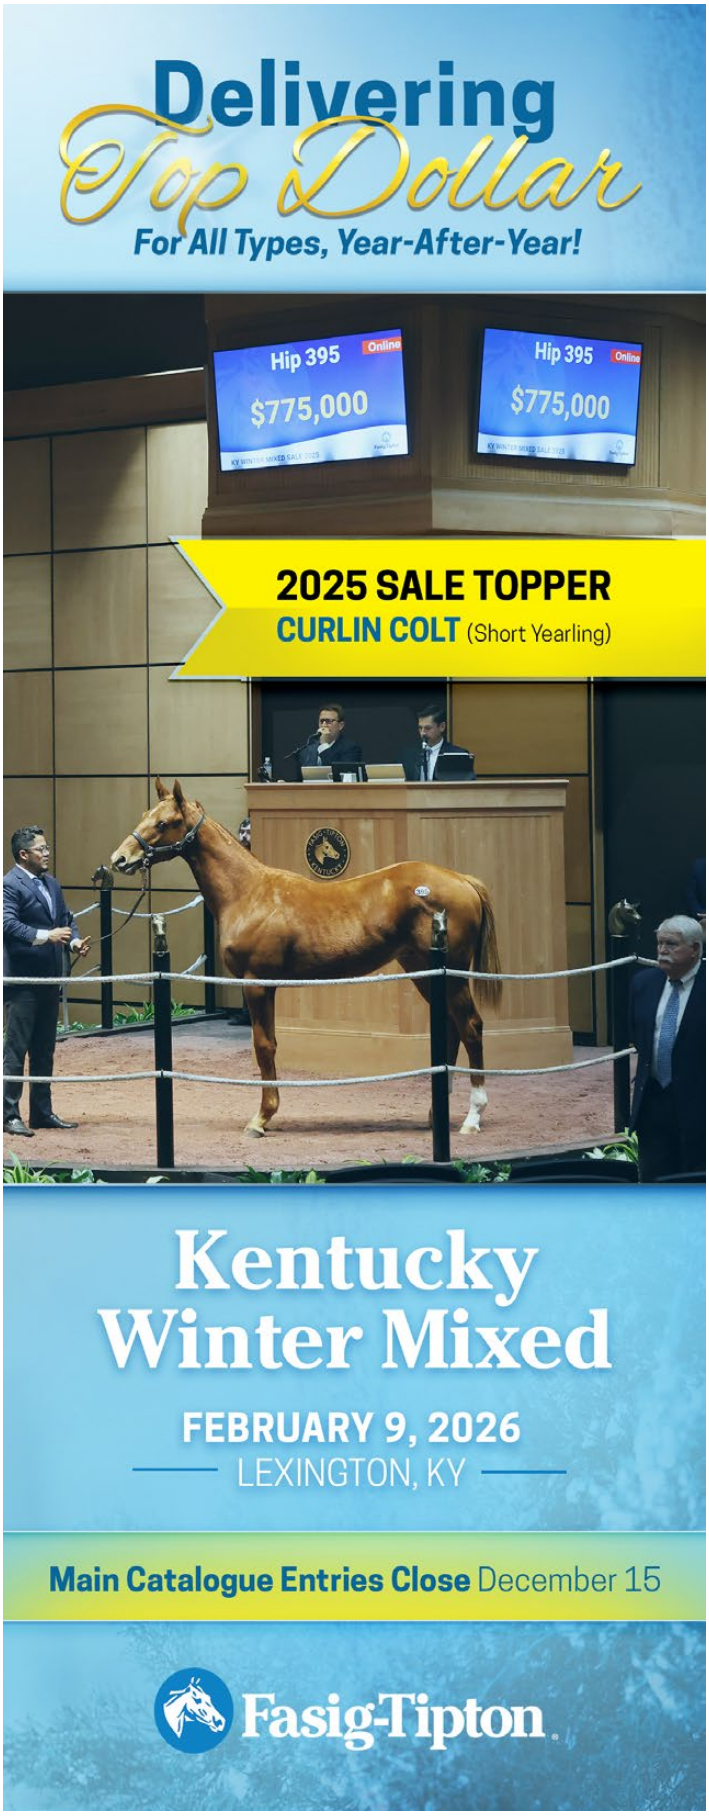

"There may never be another one like him," he said. "He elevated the entire region—breeders, trainers, owners, and the reputation of Maryland racing itself. We're grateful for every foal he gave us." BH

CA BREEDING INCENTIVES AIMED AT REVERSING CONTRACTION

By Byron King
@BH_Bking

Speaking before the California Horse Racing Board during its Nov. 19 meeting in Sacramento, Calif., an executive from the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association spotlighted three incentives aimed at reversing years of contraction in the state's breeding industry.

CTBA president Doug Burge told commissioners that California-breds account for approximately half of the fields in the state, a dramatic shift from decades ago when they played a supporting role. The absence of racing in Northern California and the resulting consolidation to the south have intensified the importance of supporting breeders.

With the Thoroughbred foal crop declining in California, as it is in many parts of the country, Burge elaborated on the CTBA's multipronged strategy, first announced in mid-August.

In addition to the $30 million restricted racing and incentive program overseen by the CTBA, beginning with mares bred in 2026, "when those resulting foals hit the ground in 2027 and are registered with The Jockey Club and then Cal-bred registered with us, we're going to pay the breeder of record $1,000 per foal up to a cap of 25," Burge said. "With the consolidation of racing to the south, we're very concerned about the farms in the north and continuing to hopefully get them to stick with us and continue to breed. We're hoping that this carrot on top of the $30 million program works."

The absence of racing in Northern California has led some owners of lower-level California-breds to ship to Washington or Arizona to seek competitive opportunities rather than race in Southern California—a trend that further pressures racing and breeding in the state.

A second component of the CTBA plan is a mare recruitment program that began earlier this fall with the initial breeding stock sales in Kentucky.

“WE'RE VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE FARMS IN THE NORTH AND CONTINUING TO HOPEFULLY GET THEM TO STICK WITH US AND CONTINUE TO BREED.”

-Doug Burge

"For any mare that's purchased at a commercial sale (elsewhere) that then comes to California, when that mare drops her foal and is bred back, we're going to pay the purchaser a reimbursement of $3,000 per mare to help hopefully offset some of the transportation costs to get her to California," Burge said.

Burge said this aspect of the program comes with two restrictions: the mare has to be purchased for at least $20,000 and be age 12 or younger.

"And then the third part to this program is we've waived all of our Cal-bred registration fees for the next three years," he added. "We know you know—we sold our property. We're giving that money back to the breeders, not all of it, but over time, because we got to get in front of this thing, and those are some of the commitments we've made. And we're hoping a year from now, we can have this conversation and see some positive results."

Burge's comments came before the CHRB authorized a mixed sale at Fairplex in Pomona Jan. 20.

Following a question from commissioner Thomas Hudnut, Burge projected the number of Thoroughbred foals in the state would be "south of 1,000" horses next year. That figure was 3,664 in 2005, according to The Jockey Club.

Purses in California, unlike those in other leading racing states, are not supplemented by gaming, but they remain rewarding. California-bred maiden special weight races will be contested for $70,000 purse this winter at Santa Anita Park, according to Bill Nader, president and CEO of the Thoroughbred Owners of California.

Nader, in remarks made during an earlier portion of the CHRB meeting, noted a previously announced increase in the California-bred maiden bonus from $10,000 to $12,500 per race at Santa Anita for the upcoming meet and the addition of two prominent stallions to stand at Rancho San Miguel: Collected and Eight Rings. CAPE FLYING CHAMPIONSHIP JOINS BC CHALLENGE SERIES

Edited Press Release

LIESL KING

Racing at Kenilworth Racecourse in Cape Town, South Africa

A trio of world-class races at Kenilworth Racecourse in South Africa will anchor a blockbuster qualifying day Jan. 10 for the 2026 Breeders' Cup World Championships via the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series: Win and You're In.

Horses from around the globe will qualify for the 43rd running of the World Championships through the Win and You're In program, which will enter its 20th year in 2026. Consisting of 14 grade 1 races run during a two-day festival worth purses and awards of more than $34 million, the 2026 World Championships will be held Oct. 30-31 at Keeneland in Lexington, the Horse Capital of the World.

The Cape Flying Championship (G1), a 1,000-meter (about 5-furlong) weight-for-age race, will serve as an automatic qualifier for the Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint (G1T). The race joins the King's Plate (G1), a 1-mile race for 3-year-olds and up which provides a free berth to the Breeders' Cup Mile (G1T), and the Paddock Stakes (G1), a 1 1/8-mile race for fillies and mares 3-year-olds and up that is an automatic qualifier for the Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf (G1T).

As part of the benefits of the Challenge Series, Breeders' Cup will pay the entry fees for the winners of the three South African races to start in the respective Breeders' Cup divisions.

"Breeders' Cup Limited is pleased to continue the expansion of our international Breeders' Cup Challenge Series with the addition of the Cape Flying Championship," said Breeders' Cup executive vice president and chief racing officer Dora Delgado. "We're grateful for the collaborative efforts that brought this partnership to fruition and look forward to welcoming top South African contenders to the World Championships."

"The inclusion of the World Pool Cape Flying Championship in the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series is a landmark moment for South African racing," said Justin Vermaak, executive racing and bloodstock, Race Coast. "Hollywoodbets Kenilworth has long showcased some of the sport's most thrilling performances, and we are honored that our flagship sprint now serves as a gateway to the Breeders' Cup World Championships. This partnership reflects the growing stature of South African racing on the world stage, and we look forward to seeing our horses compete at Keeneland alongside the best in the world."

Breeders' Cup will also provide a travel allowance for all starters based outside of North America to compete in the World Championships. The Challenge winner must be nominated to the Breeders' Cup program by the pre-entry deadline of Oct. 19, 2026, to receive the rewards.

CALANDAGAN NAMED 2025 CARTIER HORSE OF THE YEAR

Edited Press Release

Calandagan, a three-time group 1 winner so far this year who capped his European racing season with a 2 1/4-length win in the Champion Stakes (G1), was crowned Horse of the Year at the 35th Cartier Racing Awards Nov. 19 at the Dorchester Hotel in London.

The son of 2014 Cartier 2-year-old colt Gleneagles is the fourth horse bred by the Aga Khan Studs to be crowned Cartier Horse of the Year following Daylami (1999), Dalakhani (2003), and Zarkava (2008); and the first since the death of His Highness Aga Khan IV in February.

Trained by Francis-Henri Graffard, Calandagan has enjoyed a superb campaign in 2025, including defeating top-class opposition in the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes (G1) and the Champion. Brigadier Gerard (1972) is the only other horse in history to win both races in the same season. Calandagan also captured the Grand Prix de Saint Cloud (G1) in late June in France.

EDWARD WHITAKER/RACING POST

Calandagan has been named the Cartier Horse of the Year

Calandagan takes the Horse of the Year award ahead of Champion Stakes runner-up Ombudsman, who captured the Prince of Wales's Stakes (G1) and International Stakes (G1), and the other finalists: multiple group 1-winning 3-year-olds Delacroix and filly Minnie Hauk. All four finalists were bred in Ireland.

Calandagan, who is being prepared for a start in the Japan Cup (G1), also receives the older horse award. Each season the Cartier Awards honor Europe's top runners.

Delacroix lands the 3-year-old colt award, having defeated Ombudsman in the Eclipse Stakes (G1) and captured the Irish Champion Stakes (G1) during a campaign that stretched from March-October. Trained by Aidan O'Brien for a Coolmore-affiliated partnership, the son of Dubawi and North American champion mare Tepin prevails over Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe (G1) victor Daryz, Irish Two Thousand Guineas (G1) and St James's Palace Stakes (G1) scorer Field of Gold, and Epsom Derby (G1) and Irish Derby (G1) winner Lambourn.

Coolmore and O'Brien also are represented by Minnie Hauk, who is the champion 3-year-old filly for 2025 following an admirable season that yielded victories in the Epsom Oaks (G1), Irish Oaks (G1), and Yorkshire Oaks (G1).

Having been nominated 12 months ago, Asfoora is the third Australian-bred horse to receive the champion sprinter award following Black Caviar (2012) and Starspangledbanner (2010) thanks to her wins in the Nunthorpe Stakes (G1) and Prix de l'Abbaye de Longchamp (G1).

Trawlerman, trained by John and Thady Gosden for owner/breeder Godolphin, is the champion stayer of 2025 following a perfect European season that included a relentless display in the Gold Cup (G1).

In addition to taking the two 3-year-old prizes, Coolmore partnerships and O'Brien also dominated the juvenile awards, with Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf (G1T) scorer Gstaad taking the 2-year-old colt title. Precise, who captured the Moyglare Stud Stakes and Fillies' Mile (both G1) during a highly progressive autumn, receives the 2-year-old filly award.

The recipient of the Award of Merit for 2025 is Brough Scott. The former jockey has gone on to establish himself as a hugely respected journalist and acclaimed author, in addition to becoming the face of racing on TV for three decades and co-founder of the Racing Post. He has worked in the sport for well over 60 years, lending his considerable talents to a host of causes throughout the industry and beyond.

Laurent Feniou, managing director of Cartier UK, commented: "My congratulations go to all of the winners at this year's Cartier Racing Awards. It is very pleasing to see Calandagan take the Cartier Horse of the Year award after his outstanding season.

"We are honored to present the Cartier/The Daily Telegraph Award of Merit to Brough Scott, someone who has tirelessly contributed across the industry for more than 60 years. Everyone at Cartier is delighted to be able to celebrate another brilliant year of racing and I would like to thank our media partners Racing Post, The Daily Telegraph, and Sky Sports Racing for their continued support of the Cartier Racing Awards."

The Cartier Racing Awards were established in 1991 to reward excellence in horse racing. European racing's top awards are delivered through a combination of points earned by horses in pattern races (30%), combined at the end of the season with the opinions of a panel of racing journalists/handicappers (35%) and votes from readers of Racing Post and The Daily Telegraph (35%).

CHAMPION STEEPLECHASER SNAP DECISION RETIRED AT AGE 11

Edited Press Release

Snap Decision leads over the last fence in winning the 2024 American Grand National Stakes at Far Hills

Snap Decision, champion steeplechase horse of 2024 and the second-leading earner in United States steeplechase history, has been retired by owner Bruton Street-US and trainer Jack Fisher.

Bred in Kentucky by Phipps Stable, the 11-year-old gelding won 17 of 32 starts over hurdles, finished second eight times, and was third twice while racing from 2019-25. He earned $1,258,150 over jumps, second only to Hall of Famer McDynamo's $1,310,104 in North American history.

The retirement decision came this week after a 2025 campaign that included four starts, a win in the Temple Gwathmey Hurdle Handicap (NSA-2) in April and a second in the Calvin Houghland Iroquois Steeplechase (NSA-1) in May. In his final start, he finished fourth behind Irish shippers Zanahiyr and Ballysax Hank in the American Grand National Hurdle Stakes (NSA-1) at Far Hills Oct. 18.

"We would have loved to have seen him catch McDynamo, but that's OK," said Mike Hankin, co-owner with Charlie Fenwick and Charlie Noell. "Will we ever own another horse like him? We'll see. I don't know. He really embodied what Bruton Street was about, which is three friends getting together to own and enjoy racehorses. He's done everything we've asked of him."

Prior to becoming a steeplechaser, Snap Decision made 18 starts on the flat for Phipps Stable and trainer Shug McGaughey—winning twice and placing in a grade 3 turf stakes. Hankin credited the early care from those connections, and their willingness to see their horse find a second racing career. The bay Hard Spun gelding hails from a deep Phipps family as a grandson of the great Personal Ensign, an undefeated champion, member of Thoroughbred racing's Hall of Fame, and multiple grade 1 producer. Snap Decision's dam, Salute, also produced grade 1 winner Mr Speaker and grade 3 winners Fire Away and Vigilantes Way.

"A lot of people helped make him who he is, and we're grateful to them," Hankin said, mentioning jockeys Graham Watters, Sean McDermott, and Willie McCarthy, plus Fisher staffers Ashley Randall, Jenna Elliott, and Sandra Webb. "The Phippses always followed him even though they didn't own him anymore. Darren Fox at Darley (home to sire Hard Spun) is very proud of him. He's got a lot of fans out there."

Among his career highlights, Snap Decision won the Temple Gwathmey a record four times and the Iroquois a record-tying three times. His 2024 championship campaign included victories in the Gwathmey, Iroquois, and American Grand National in a three-way photo finish after getting passed in the stretch.

In an era of foreign imports on the American steeplechase circuit, Snap Decision stood out as an American-bred former flat horse who excelled at a new challenge. His 2024 championship ended a string of nine consecutive Eclipse Awards earned by horses bred in Britain, Ireland, or France. The Kentucky Thoroughbred Association honored him as its Kentucky-bred steeplechase champion five times.

Snap Decision heads to a potential career as a foxhunter with Fenwick not far from Fisher's base in Maryland.

"The hope is he will just become part of the community of horses we have on the farm," said Fenwick, a former trainer and amateur steeplechase jockey. "He will get ridden regularly and will see the hounds before the end of this hunting season. That's the goal, let him see the hounds, let him see what he thinks and how he wants to behave and hopefully that's a new life for him. If that's not something he wants to do, he'll hack around the farm."

NEW BAY FILLY TOPS DAY 3 OF GOFFS NOVEMBER FOAL SALE

By James Thomas/Racing Post

COURTESY GOFFS

The session-topping New Bay filly consigned as Lot 644 in the ring at the Goffs November Foal Sale

"He's the bravest of the brave," was how Philipp Stauffenberg was described after bidding €650,000 (US$749,245, €1=US$1.15) for the New Bay filly (Lot 644) out of budding blue hen Livia's Dream midway through the headline session of the Goffs November Foal Sale Nov. 19.

Ed Sackville, who was taking instructions on the phone, provided the sternest resistance, but the high-rolling German pinhooker ultimately proved more determined to secure Mount Coote Stud's youngster.

The price means the filly, a half sister to Dreamloper and Santorini Star, is Stauffenberg's biggest pinhook gamble to date. However, he cut a remarkably relaxed figure as he explained the thought process behind the punchy outlay.

"Obviously the plan is to come back next year," Stauffenberg said while smoking a celebratory cigarillo. "If you look into it, there are very few foals of that quality, it's a high-end page. Obviously it's a lot of money but on the other hand, if you look at what these residual value pedigrees are making, I think it's fine. It puts us in good shape, hopefully. We will see.

"That's the first New Bay I've had, so hopefully the stallion is doing something positive next year. He should."

At one point during the bidding it looked as if Stauffenberg had checked out of the running, only to reenter the fray having retreated to the back of the auditorium and picked up his phone.

"I was over my budget but just needed reassurance that one of my partners was really willing to step up," he said. "At the end, I carry the whole risk so I have to have back up that I'm safe. I thought that she should be between three and five (hundred thousand). It depends on the opposition, but I wasn't really thinking that I'd have to give more than six."

Stauffenberg added that he was prepared to play the long game in a bid to enhance the filly's market value, with her pedigree offering a deal of security regardless of her talent on the track.

"The big pinhooks last year got punished quite a lot, so it's a big risk, but she's a nice, racy filly," he said. "Even if she fails to sell next year, I think you'd be happy to race her. That could even increase the value more. It's a family that's done well, especially with fillies.

"There is a risk, and if she was a colt then I wouldn't have done that, but with a filly like her, I think it's easier to take the risk. With the page, I'm happy that I got her. Obviously you'd always like to pay less but that's what the market required and that's what I was willing to pay."

Given the giddy highs experienced on this day last year, the figures do little justice to how vibrant Wednesday's market was, even if a clearance rate of 91% speaks to the strength in depth on show.

The 169 foals sold brought turnover of €18,359,000 (US$21,162,137), which was almost identical to 12 months ago. The average price dipped by 5% at €108,635 (US$124,911), and the median was down 3% at €78,000 (US$89,909). The fourth and final session of the foal sale is Nov. 20.
